The fire, which spread to part of the stables, and through which and the smoke a galling fire was kept up by the Imperial troops, was with difficulty extinguished, and, as the presence of the enemy in the adjoining buildings was a grave danger to the Legation, a sortie was organized to drive them out. A hole was made in the Legation Wall, and Captain Halliday, in command of twenty Marines, led the way into the buildings and almost immediately engaged a party of the enemy. Before he could use his revolver, however, he was shot through the left shoulder, at point blank range, the bullet fracturing the shoulder and carrying away part of the lung. Officers of the Army and Navy may cover War or Climate Risk, or both, by a uniform annual extra premium of moderate amount, payable for any period not exceeding ten years, but ceasing on permanent retirement from the Service. This arrangement secures relief from the necessarily heavy extra charges which would otherwise be imposed as occasions might arise; but it can be taken advantage of only when there is no near prospect of Active Service or Foreign Residence.

Scottish Provident Institution.

ESTABLISHED 1837.

IN THIS SOCIETY are combined the advantages of Mutual Assurance with Moderate Premiums.

THE PREMIUMS are so moderate that an Assurance of £1200 or thereby may generally be secured from the first for the yearly payment which usually would be charged (with profits) for £1000 only—the difference of £200 being equivalent to an Immediate and certain bonus of 20 per cent.

THE WHOLE SURPLUS goes to the Policyholders, on a system at once safe and equitable—no share being given to those by whose early death there is a loss to the common Fund.

THE SURPLUS at last Investigation was £1,581,000.

Over 60 per cent. of the Members who died during the last Septennium were entitled to Bonuses which, notwithstanding that the premiums do not as a rule exceed the non-profit rates of other Offices, were, on the average, equal to an addition of over 50 per cent. to the Original Assurances.

ACCUMULATED FUNDS - £13,500,000.

All the conditions of Assurance are arranged on the most equitable basis.

ENDOWMENT ASSURANCE—with Profits—SPECIAL CLASS.

Captain Baird was on the right of the fighting line, and had only a small party of Gurkhas and men of the 4th Kashmir Rifles. He was wounded on the heights at a distance of a mile and half from the fort. When Surgeon Capt. Whitechurch proceeded to his rescue, the enemy, in great strength, had broken through the fighting line; darkness had set in, and Captain Baird, Surgeon Captain Whitechurch, and the sepoy were completely isolated from assistance. Captain Baird was placed in a dooly by Surgeon Captain Whitechurch, and the party then attempted to return to the fort. The Gurkhas bravely clung to the dooly until three were killed and a fourth was severely wounded. Surgeon Captain Whitechurch then put Captain Baird upon his back and carried him some distance with heroic courage and resolution. The little party kept diminishing in numbers, being fired at the whole way. On one or two occasions Surgeon Captain Whitechurch was obliged to charge walls, from behind which the enemy kept up an incessant fire. At one place particularly the whole party was in imminent danger of being cut up, having been surrounded by the enemy. Nearly all the party were wounded, Captain Baird receiving two additional wounds before reaching the fort." Hills was on picket duty, with two guns, at the mound to the right of the camp. About 11 o'clock a.m. there was a rumour that the enemy's cavalry were coming down on his post. Lieutenant Hills proceeded to take up the position assigned in case of alarm, but, before he reached the spot, he saw the enemy close upon his guns before they had time to form up. To enable him to do this, he boldly charged, single-handed, the head of the enemy's column, cut down the first man, struck the second, and was then ridden down, horse and all. On getting up and searching for his sword, three more men came at him (two mounted); the first man he wounded with his pistol; he caught the lance of the second in his left hand, and wounded him with his sword; the first man then came on again, and was cut down; the third man (on foot) then came up, and wrenched the sword from Lieutenant Hills, who fell in the struggle, and the enemy was about to cut him down when Major Tombs, who had gone up to visit his two guns, saw what was going on, rushed in and shot the man and saved Lieutenant Hills. By this time the enemy's cavalry had passed by, and Major Tombs and Lieutenant Hills went to look after the wounded men, when one of the enemy passed with Lieutenant Hills' pistol; he first cut at Lieutenant Hills who parried the blow, and he then turned on Major Tombs, who received the blow in the same manner. His second attack on the Lieutenant was more successful, as he was cut down with a bad sword-cut on the head, and would have been, no doubt, killed, had not Major Tombs rushed in and put his sword through the man.—Extract from Despatch of Lt. Colonel M. Mackenzie, Commanding 1st Brigade of Horse Artillery, dated Camp near Delhi, 10th July 1857, and published in the Supplement of the London Gazette of 15th January 1858."
